This day will never dawn again,
But dusk is not to be feared
After such a day.

The torch of knowledge procured in this place and time will illuminate the darkest paths we will walk.

“Victory at all costs, victory in spite of terror, victory however long and hard the road may be; for without victory there can be no survival.” -Winston Churchill
Our victories here have prepared us for the greater challenge life issues us.

As we bid farewell to yesteryear
We cherish the memories of the friends we made
And the spirit of our Alma Mater.

FALL

LIONS' FOOTBALL

The 1984 football season could be described in one word: unpredictable. After a 3-1 start, the team faltered, losing four games in a row. The Lions showed great character, however, in their last two games, and compiled a 4-5-1 final record under the guidance of head coach Steve Marino and his two very able assistants, Carl Eriksberg and William Koscher.

The team started the season with a 20-14 win against its traditional opening-day opponent, Agawam. This game was invaluable, for several key players on both offense and defense were playing together for the first time. The following three weeks produced a pair of wins over Frontier Regional and Wahconah, sandwiched around an exciting 34-23 loss to the West Springfield Terriers in which the Lions led 17-14 at the half.

At this point, however, things turned sour for the Lions. Losses that could easily have been victories, to Athol, Mohawk, Turner Falls, and Ware put a dim light on the rest of the season. Instead of giving up and playing out the rest of the season the Lions showed their character by defeating Mahar 19-13 and playing traditional Thanksgiving Day rival Palmer to a 15-15 tie. The Lions, on two Jim Parker touchdowns and a two-point conversion toss from Mark Holman to Bob Morton, led 15-7 with less than two minutes to play. However, Palmer marched 96 yards to tie the game with just 23 seconds left. It was somehow a fitting end for the 1984 Lions.

The Lions return to the battlefield.

The 1984-85 soccer team had a very successful year. The Lions made it to the semi-finals, losing only to a tough Cathedral team. The Lions finished with a 12-4-3 record. Jack Vilaca was the returning coach, leading a diversified team with two All Western Mass. selections. The first was Miguel Goncalves, a senior tri-captain who finished the season with twenty-seven goals and fourteen assists for a total of sixty-eight points on the year. The second was another tri-captain, Joey Cretella, who played the sweeper position. Joey saved many games with his aggressive style of play. Other players who performed well were Jeff Coelho, Scott Severyn, Anthony Costa, and Joe DaSilva. Top underclassmen were Saul Chelo, Ricky Lima, Paul Ribeiro, Mark Papuga, Glenn Dias, and Joe La Flamme.

Tri-captains Lisa Fonte, Carolyn Woods, and Maria Andreis.

The Varsity girls' soccer team finished a tough year with a 9-8-0 record, moving up to the more competitive "A" division. The strong effort put forth by the Lady Lions kept their playoff dreams alive until the final weeks of the season. With tri-captains Maria Andreis, Lisa Fonte, and Carolyn Woods leading the way, the team finished with a winning record. Leading the Lions' offensive strike was senior Lori Damato, who finished the season with seventeen goals and nine assists for a total of forty-three points. Senior Ellen Russel was voted the team's MVP. Best Offensive Player was awarded to Lori Damato, and Best Defensive Player to Carolyn Woods. Junior Patti Skowronek gave a lift to the team with her high spirits before the games. Phil "Flip" Dalessio returned as head coach, and Maureen Brennan returned as the Junior Varsity coach.

LIONS' CROSS COUNTRY

Once again Coach Bill Mahoney did an excellent job in getting the team ready for the season. While the overall team record was not outstanding, the team made great personal strides throughout the season. Sophomore Tung Bui seemingly came from nowhere to become the team's number one runner, while Seniors Mike Cijka and Steve Sanderson consistently held the second and third spots. Other accomplished individuals to be noted are Tracy Holley, Paul Kirketelos, Dave Jaciow and Rick Drinan, who combined to strip five minutes off the team's total time: an amazing feat.

BOOSTER DAY

Each year during the Fall, the Senior Class sponsors the annual Booster Day Dance and Pep Rally to create school spirit and support athletic teams. Beginning at 1:00 in the afternoon on Friday, October 12, all L.H.S. classes filed onto the bleachers in the gym. The cheerleaders, led by Donna Robbins and Gina Surreira, performed an outstanding show that brought cheers and banners out from the students; including the Senior Class' sign saying "Let's Go Crazy!" The climax of the program came with the announcement of the team athletes. This too brought cheers and confetti from the psyched students. Some of the most enthused athletes were Paul Noreau, Ellen Russel, Steve Sanderson, and Scott Sevryn, who let everyone know whose soccer team was 'Number One.'

That evening L.H.S. came together once again for the traditional bonfire, this year built by Mark Lupa. A dummy representing the Athol football team was burned in the fire. Then, at 7:00, the Booster Day Dance began. The Class of 1985 once again showed its inventiveness by featuring a "Video-Disc-jockey" playing music as well as videos on a huge screen. Everyone who participated in the day's events had a great time creating the Lion Spirit which was evident at the football and soccer games the next day.

HU KE LAU PARTY

The first event for the new Senior Class, under the direction of Tessa Chenaille, was held on Thursday evening, September 10, at the Hu Ke Lau restaurant in Chicopee. The party entitled "Welcome to Senior Year" began with a meal and a show that brought instant laughs to the evening. Three of the class couples, Joe Kennally and Donna Robbins, Kyle Howard and Sandy Homans, and Tom Sears and Kim Motyka were called up to the stage along with Class President Kathy Keough and the three Hula dancers: Mark Bourcier, Bob Morton, and Steve Sanderson. Mark, Bob, and Steve did not leave the stage as quickly as the others because of the hula contest. Bob Morton's swiveling hips quickly won him the title of Hula King. This was the first event organized by Officers Kathryn Keough, Lauren Borsa, Gina Surreira, and Donna Robbins, and by advisors Mr. Wallace Gay, Mrs. Frances Libiszewski, Mr. Larry Holdsworth, and Mr. Brian Connery. The evening concluded with dancing and everyone saying "I can't believe we're finally Seniors!"

SOPHOMORE BANQUET

"Almost Paradise" kicked off the year for the Sophomore Class on Saturday, October 27, 1984. The class showed its originality by breaking from the tradition of holding the banquet in the spring. The affair took place at Ludlow Country Club from six to eleven-thirty that night. Dinner consisted of a smorgasbord, while dance music was provided by a disc jockey from the radio station 99.3 FM, "The Hot Spot." The student in charge of the event, Grace Goncalves, along with Vice President Scott Robbins, Secretary MaryAnn Abeid, Treasurer Lance Holman, and advisors Miss Lydia Cepeda, Mrs. Elena Marion, and Mr. Charles Bradshaw worked hard in order for the banquet to be a success and inspire class unity. The highlight of the evening was the class joining together to do the Can-Can to Frank Sinatra's big hit "New York, New York."

HALLOWEEN PARTY

A bit of Senior zaniness was evident at the L.H.S. cafeteria on Friday evening, October 26, 1984 when the annual Senior Masquerade was held. The scene was set with a coffin, dry ice, tombstones, spider webs, eerie music, and balloons set up by the Senior decorating committee. Seniors arrived at 7:00 PM and they were dressed for the occasion. Some of the most spectacular costumes were: JoAnne Dudek as a chicken; Sandy Kirkitelos, Sheryl Maziarz, and Maria Santos as the Colgate Team; and Dan Valadas as Dracula. Kevin Wikar, Dan Zglobicki, and Paul Turgeon provided music while Seniors danced the night away. The party came to a close at 10:00 with many Seniors wishing that Halloween came twice a year.

WINTER

LIONS' HOCKEY

The hockey team, coached by Mr. Richard Malek, once again had an outstanding season. After compiling a 13-3 regular season and tying Amherst for the Fay-Wright Division title, the Lions were defeated 6-2 by East Longmeadow in the first round of the WMass playoffs.

The team's fine overall record is a result of a balanced defense and a high-scoring offense. Jim Kumor, who posted an 11-2 record, and Jeff Steigmeyer, who posted a 2-1 record, gave the Lions an outstanding crew. The defense, led by Mike Rodrigues, Doug Keyes, and Steve Picard, held the opponents to just 3.30 goals per game. The offense, led by Jim Nowakowski, Bob Hughes, Scott Severyn, and Dave Quesnal scored an average of 7.40 goals per game.

The wrestling team, under the tutelage of coaches Dale and Craig McCarl, had another fine season. This year's team was a young one, with only two seniors returning from the previous year. Captains Steve Trembley, Matt Pszeniczny, and Paul Kirketelos formed the nucleus of the team while setting good examples for the team to imitate. Paul was exceptionally sharp, wrestling his way to an undefeated regular season. The team also benefitted from first-year wrestler Steve Sanderson, a senior, who provided the necessary points to defeat Amherst in a late season meet. Freshmen Mark Garrity and Dan Daponde garnered valuable experience while contributing to the team effort.

LIONS' SKI TEAM

This year's ski team, coached by Craig Hodgkins, finished second to Westfield in the standings. The team was more balanced than in recent years with a mixture of upper- and underclassmen. Scott Maziarz, placing fifth in Western Mass., and Scott Tierney, overall team leader, were the most consistent members of the team. The fine showing by the underclassmen forecasts a strong team in 1985-1986.

PRO MERITO SPONSORS BLOODMOBILE

The Pro Merito Club held the first Bloodmobile of the year on January 15, 1985 in the gymnasium. Christie Quette was chairperson for the event and was in charge of distributing and collecting flyers, and making all arrangements. Many students who were seventeen participated. They were allowed to go to the gymnasium at lunch time or during studies. The event was sponsored by Pro Merito in order to give the students in the club a chance to do some charity work and also in order to get L.H.S. students involved.

On Friday, February 8, approximately two hundred L.H.S. students jumped rope to raise money for the American Heart Association. This year's chairman was Senior Paul Noreau, who arranged the teams, distributed pledge envelopes, provided publicity, and got members of the student body involved. All of the students who did jump collected pledges proportionate to the amount they could keep jumping. They were all excused from classes from 8:11 AM to participate, and music provided by Kevin Wikar and Dan Zglobicki gave extra energy to everyone. The involvement in this activity has grown dramatically since its start by the Class of 1984. The event not only aids those in need, but helps foster a feeling of unity among the students.

STUDENTS AGAINST DRUNK DRIVING

After several years' absence, Students Against Drunk Driving (SADD) returned to Ludlow High School. The full-school assembly featured Bill Orr, a representative from SADD headquarters in Marlboro, Mass., who outlined the reasons why the program should be reinstated at Ludlow. Students were then encouraged to take home a "Contract For Life," an agreement between the student and his parents regarding the actions of both after having consumed alcohol. On May 16, 1985, a separate but related assembly was held in preparation for the following evening's prom. Arranged by Junior Michelle Manganaro, the assembly featured a state trooper who demonstrated the use of a breathalyzer machine, and Dr. Dziura, a Medical examiner who brought graphic photos that made one realize how dangerous drinking and driving can be.

Mr. Orr reads some surprising statistics.

Bill Orr asked the student body "If one of your friends was too drunk to drive, how many of you would be there to help him or her?" At this everyone stood up.

NATIONAL WOMEN'S HISTORY WEEK

Beginning on March 3, 1985, Ludlow High School participated in National Women's History Week, sponsored by several of its teachers. Mrs. Kowalczyk, a key organizer, said that the purpose of the week was to raise the consciousness level and understanding of the fact that women have largely been left out of our study of history. The idea to celebrate the week came about as a result of two teachers' visit to the Massachusetts Department of Education in West Springfield, where they listened to the lecture of a women's historian.

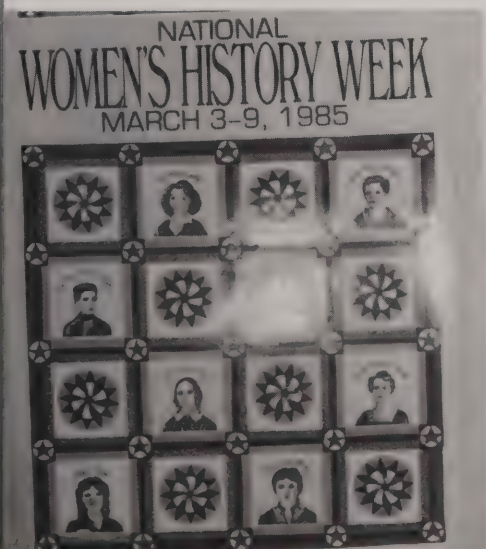

The scheduled events ran from March 3 to March 9. They included an essay contest, panel discussions, invited woman speakers, and a daily women's history trivia question. The focus of the week was not on any individual, but rather stressed the importance of the woman's role throughout history and today. Many students participated in the events, giving each speaker a good audience. Reporter Ginny Musante was a favorite.

This year the Seniors plowed their way through a terrible snow storm to celebrate the Holiday season with their classmates at the Senior Christmas Party. The event took place at the Laddibuck restaurant in Ludlow, and everyone enjoyed the meal on the cold night. Certainly the Senior spirit must be strong to carry people to the party on such a night.

FAMILY DEVELOPMENT CLASSES HOST CHRISTMAS PARTY

In December, the Family Development class under the direction of Mrs. Clement held its annual Christmas Party. The party was put on by the students, who each brought a guest ranging in age from four to eight. All the members decorated the classrooms and prepared nutritious snacks. The guests were then treated to games and the making of Christmas cards. Gifts were also distributed by Santa, a.k.a. Todd Glanville. The class got a first hand look at entertaining children while the guests experienced high school activities.

1986 PRESENTS "IDES OF MARCH"

The Junior Class held a very successful "Ides of March" dance on Friday evening, March 15. The dance featured the popular rock band "Bratt" who performed in the gymnasium. Tickets were $3.50 and all proceeds went to the Junior Class treasury. Phil McBride, President, was in charge of the event.

The baseball team, under the guidance of Mr. William Kolodziey, compiled a disappointing 5-15 record. A crucial hit here and there and the Lions would have had a respectable record. A total of nine games were lost by three runs or less. The pitching staff, led by Mark Schellhase, Bob Morton, and Dan Sweeney, who threw a no-hitter against Longmeadow, was the team's strong point.

The Ludlow Girls Softball team graduated five starters this year. These seniors included catcher Amy LaFortune, first-baseman, Maria Andreis, outfielders Michelle Forgie and Lori Damato, and short stop Ellen Russell. The team had a lot of potential with these seniors. They all did very well. With the exception of Lori Damato and Ellen Russell, all the seniors have played for all four high school years. Ellen had played but not at Ludlow. Next year's softball team has high hopes with returning stars such as Missy Bator, Sue Jerz and Chrissy Andreis. This year's Track team had great individual talent, exemplified by star Sophomore James Parker. During the course of the season Jim broke several school records, and at Western Mass. meet he broke the record for 100 yard dash. He also received, earlier in the season, a 9.9 in the 100 yard dash. The track team is losing a hurdler and long distance man in Steve Sanderson, and a weight man in Todd Glanville. They also will suffer the loss of Senior Mike Charron. The track team has a lot to look forward to, however, because of upcoming talents such as Parker, Bollea, Harrington, Socha, Gaudreau, Mole, and Holley, Coaches Bill Mahoney and Greg Scyocurka did a commendable job.

Ludlow High School Faculty Presents: "ARSENIC AND OLD LACE"

On the evenings of January 3, 4, and 5, 1985, members of the L.H.S. faculty presented the play "Arsenic and Old Lace" at the Ludlow Cultural Center. The plot revolved around two old women who, as a 'charity', poisoned old men and buried them in their cellar. Their 'charity' is discovered by their nephews Jonathan (Mr. James Martin) and Mortimar (Mr. Howard Burage) who try to protect them from the police.

The cast featured Mrs. Nancy Kavka and Mrs. Eleanor Willig as the two spinster sisters, Mr. James Marceau as a nephew who thinks he is Teddy Roosevelt, and Mr. Emilio Bollea as Dr. Einstein. The faculty players put the proceeds from the production into a scholarship account that will be awarded to a graduating Senior.

Eileen and Jerome, your M.C.'s.

LIGHTS! CAMERA! ACTION!

It's Senior Show time: and what a time it was. On the evenings of February 15 and 16, the Class of 1985 presented their show entitled "Anything Goes." Preparation for the show began in January when the two student coordinators were elected. They were Joe Kenneally and Joane Dudek, given the job of assisting director Mr. James Martin in all aspects of the production. There were seven comedy acts and six musical acts in the show. Perhaps the highlight of the show was its finale, a salute to Broadway featuring such songs as "My Town," "Give My Regards to Broadway," and "Lullabye of Broadway." Both nights being sellouts, the Senior class gained good profits for their Class Week expenses. A total of 150 seniors participated in the show, and all of them have memories of those "Moments to Remember."

“DISARRAY

Early in the fall of 1984, it was discovered that a great deal of money was missing from the student activities fund, an account in which all school organizations' money was kept. The discrepancy, estimated at $25,000 was apparently due to outdated methods and procedures of coordinating school activities and spending, and is traced back to errors as long ago as 1977.

The school committee immediately froze all money in the account, leaving helpless most of the organizations in the school. Mr. James D. Cavallo, Principal was suspended for a short period of time for considering a fund raiser to replenish the fund and enable some important activities to take place. The School Committee had banned fund raisers and hired a private accountant firm, Main Hurdman, to professionally audit the account.

The school committee announced later that the account was the responsibility of the Principal, and that action would be taken against him for the disarray.

A hearing arranged for May 9th regarding what action, whether dismissal or suspension, would be taken was met by a roar of support for the principal from both the students and the townspeople. The consensus was that Mr. Cavallo was a man of impeccable character and had done a wonderful job in administration for many years. Approximately 400 students walked out of school in protest of the action and the hearing was postponed. At the time of this publication there has been no resolution; however, a new bookkeeping system has been implemented, and Mr. Cavallo continues to serve as principal of L.H.S.

“LOVE IS . . . NOW AND FOREVER” — THE JUNIOR-SENIOR PROM

“Love is, . . . Now and Forever” was this year’s theme for the Junior-Senior Promenade Held at Chez Josef in Agawam on Friday evening, May 17, from six to twelve PM. Pamela Zaranek and Michelle Manganaro were the prom co-ordinators who worked hard to provide all prom goers with a memorable evening.

The menu choices were Prime Rib au jus or Baked Stuffed Shrimp, served on tables lavishly adorned with white tablecloths and purple napkins and a flower arrangement in the center. After dinner everyone began to dance to the music of the band “Flyer.” Then, at nine thirty, the grand promenade began with all couples lining up to greet the administration and the prom judges. Luiza Martins, accompanied by Luis Tullik, was chosen Prom Queen. The rest of the evening was spent dancing to the wonderful music.

FAMILY DEVELOPMENT ACTIVITIES

The Child Development Program at Ludlow High School is an asset to the growing teenager. It not only provides the students with a first-hand view at family and child life, but it also gives them a chance to experiment and see what areas of their own lives they will have to develop in order to be a better parent and adult. As long as the program is alive and well, so will the knowledge that many students gain from the program.

JUNIOR CLASSICAL LEAGUE

Ludlow High school, along with other area schools that have Latin in their curriculum, is proud to have the Junior Classical League organization within its list of extra curricular activities. The club consists of those students who are taking either Latin or Classics and is advised by Mr. Charles Bradshaw. Club organizers are Joe Kenneally, President, Steve Picard, Vice President, Ana Goncalves, Secretary and Diane Frigon, Treasurer. The members attended a Classics Day in January, and hopefully will be attending the State Conference in the spring.

SCHOOL STORE

The L.H.S. School Store began in September, 1984. The store has pencils, paper, pens, bags, books and other school oriented items available to students. All those students who work in the school during study halls have the responsibility of maintaining the items and the store. Advisor is Mr. Howard Burrage.

MATH TEAM

This year's Math Team has finished its season with a good record. The team placed seventh out of eighteen schools, defeating such teams as Cathedral, and Wilbraham-Monson Academy. The team leaders are Mark Brumer and Christine Ouellette, with a total of forty six and thirty seven points each, respectively. These students must complete six different types of problems including Number Theory, Algebra, Geometry, Analytical Geometry and Trigonometry.

MODEL CONGRESS

Back: Advisor, David Laravee, Vicky Fonseca, Gina Surreira, Kathy Keough, Diane Frigon.

The 40th Model Congress convened at American International College January 9, 10, and 11. Among the 40 schools represented was Ludlow High School by seniors Gina Surreira, and Kathy Keough and juniors Vicki Fonseca and Diane Frigon. The foursome presented the Congress with legislature that would make it mandatory that recombinant DNA experiments be submitted to the National Institute of Health. The bill was co-sponsored by Kathy and Gina. L.H.S.'s bill along with others that were passed will be evaluated and possibly used by the United States Congress. Mr. David Laravee is the Model Congress advisor.

Regional Student Advisory Board

Kathy Keough, Shana Ferrigan.

Kathy Keough and Shana Ferrigan are the two L.H.S. seniors who represented Ludlow High on the Regional Student Advisory Board. The two girls were elected by Ludlow High School and attend meetings at the Massachusetts Department of Education in West Springfield. Here, they join other students in learning about state laws and high school related issues and policies.

Library Aides

The library aides are a group of students that aren't given much recognition but really do a lot for the library in this school. The responsibilities of this job include putting away books, arranging magazines and signing out books.

This year, these three sophomore students have also learned how to use the library's new Apple Computer. This computer has all the card catalog information. It was being tested by the library aides to see if it would be easier for student use.

Librarian, B. Colburn, S. Martowski, H. Piper, C. Maziarz.

Audio-Visual Aides

The A.V.A. is responsible for the management of such teaching tools as movie projectors, tape recorders, phonographs and video tape recorders. Their assistance is essential for all functions in the auditorium, where they manage the sound and light facilities. The A.V.A. provide valuable service while becoming diligent in the mechanical field.

Student Advisory Board

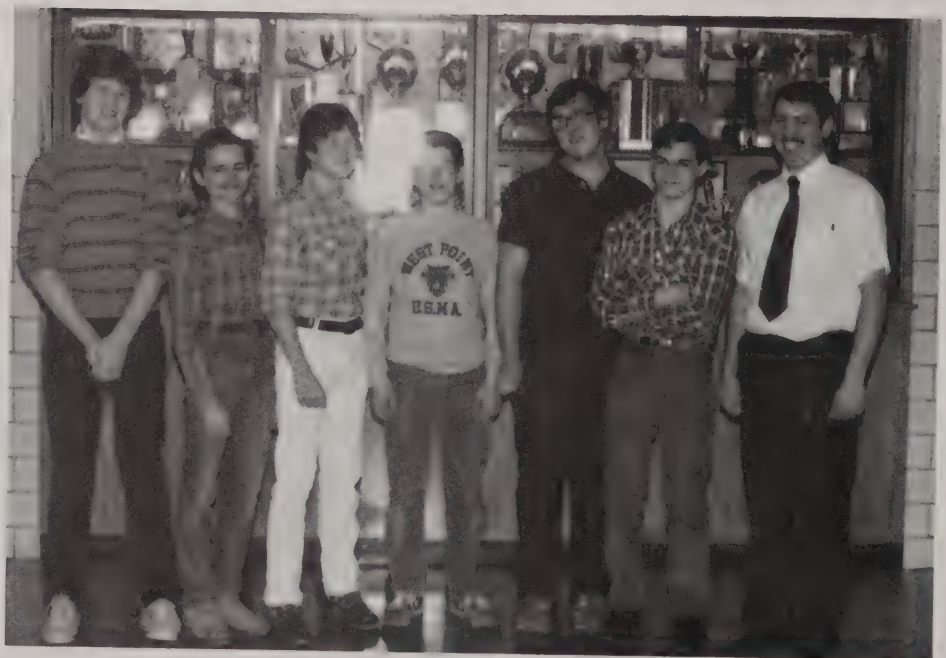

The board at L.H.S. that is the informational link between the school committee and the students is the Student Advisory Board. With Mr. Brian Connery's guidance, Donna Robbins, Mark Boucier, Steve Sanderson, Maria Santos, and Tessa Chenaille were elected by the entire student body and it is their job to present questions by students or from their board concerning any aspect of the school. This year the board was able to successfully re-establish late bus transportation for students.

M. Santos, D. Robbins, S. Sanderson, M. Bourcier, T. Chenaille.

Chess Team

This year's chess team has had a very successful season, ending the year with a league record of five wins, three losses, and two draws. The team, which consists of mainly upper-classmen, was headed by Keith Messier, team captain, and Mr. James Marceau, advisor. This year, the team's record allowed it to compete in the Western Mass. Team Championships. This year's team showed its skill at chess by coming out with three wins and only one loss, to place third in Western Mass.

CONCERT CHOIR

The 1985 Concert Choir and Chorale had a very busy year. The Holiday season was especially active with the Chorale performing at various locations around Ludlow and the Springfield area.

Both the concert in December and the Spring concert in May went very well. The climax of the year was the May 15th performance of "We Are the World."

BAND

The sixty students that composed the marching and symphony bands enjoyed a successful season. As usual, the marching band performed at all the home football games and the huge Thanksgiving Day game against Palmer. The audiences at all of the football games thrilled to pieces like "Mississippi Mud" and "Thriller."

The symphony band held the annual Spring concert on May 7th. The officers of the band this year were Heather Ferrier, President; Mark Bourcier, Vice President; and Diane Slepecki, Treasurer. Jeff Mei was the drum major for all parades and football games. This year the Band and Choir jointly held a pizza-party and dance with music provided by school musicians Orion.

Senior Executive Board

The Class of 1985 was one of the most active classes to enter Ludlow High. President Kathy Keough, Vice President Donna Robbins, Secretary, Lauren Borsa, Treasurer Gina Surreira, along with advisors Frances Libiszewski, Brian Connery, Larry Holdsworth, and Wally Gay provided the class with a memorable year. Throughout their stay at L.H.S., members have collected hundreds of dollars for their scholarship fund, held holiday food drives, attended many trips, had car washes, candy and towel sales, presented a beautiful Sophomore Banquet and Prom. Also, the class presented a successful Senior Assembly for the Class of 1984, and went Christmas caroling. The class has definitely contributed a great deal to the school.

Junior Executive Board

The Class of 1986 put on a huge, friendly presentation for the entering Class of 1988, showing their class spirit. Guided by Mrs. Joan Cavallo, Mr. Richard Cotti, Mr. James Lonczak and Mrs. Toni Mancuso, the class has had many fund-raisers to build up their treasury, as well as a successful Sophomore Banquet. All of the hard work and long hours put into Senior Assembly and Prom 1985 shows the determination of the class for nothing but the best.

Sophomore Executive Board

The Class of 1987 contains some of the most vibrant students in the school, and this is reflected in their closeness as a class. The officers leading the group are President, Grace Goncalves, Vice President, Scott Robbins, Secretary, Mary Ann Abeid, and Treasurer, Lance Holman. They are guided by advisors Mr. Charles Bradshaw, Mrs. Elena Marion and Miss Lydia Cepeda. The class has already held their calendar and towel sales, attended several hockey games, a roller skating party and a play. They also held a successful Sophomore Banquet in October. Much is expected to come from this fine group of students.

Freshman Executive Board

The Class of 1988 was the newest addition to the Ludlow High student body in September 1985. They were welcomed into the school by the Class of 1986. Class officers are: President Chris Burrage, Vice President Paul Dobek, Secretary Kim Lynch, and Treasurer, Jennifer Sarnelli. Their advisors are Mr. Howard Burrage, Mr. Leo Cassagrande, Mr. Phelon, Ms. Williamson and Mrs. Ab-dow. The class has held a towel sale and a Christmas dance. They also had a fine turnout for the jump-a-thon. The class is already preparing for a busy sophomore year.

Cheerleading

As well as some of our athletic teams, the 1985 cheerleaders were outstanding. Led by co-captains Donna Robbins and Gina Surreira, the varsity squad perfected intricate dance and acrobatic routines over long hours of practice, culminating in a spectacular Booster Day rally. Even an early-Autumn leg injury of Gina Surreira could not stop the momentum of this energetic group. The cheerleaders went on to rally the crowds at football, soccer, and basketball games, as well as performing at pep rallies to the enjoyment of all.

A harbinger of equally successful future squads was the performance of the Junior Varsity and Freshman squads, who rallied fans at J.V. and Freshman games, respectively, as well as performing in the pep rallies.

SENIOR WEEK

MYSTERY TRIP

Once again, the Senior Class Advisors succeeded in surprising the Seniors with a mystery trip. Mrs. Libiszewski, Mr. Gay, Mr. Holdsworth and Mr. Connerly brought five bus loads of seniors to Hampton Beach on Friday, May 31. The weather was sunny and slightly windy, giving everyone a chance to enjoy the beach. Later in the afternoon, everyone proceeded to the boardwalk to shop and have lunch. The last stop of the day was at Salisbury Beach Amusement Park. A highlight of the trip for two non-students, Mr. Bradshaw and Mr. Holdsworth, was passing through their hometowns, Haverhill and Lawrence.

All five buses reached Ludlow High School at 9:30 PM with everyone sunburned and tired from all of the fun.

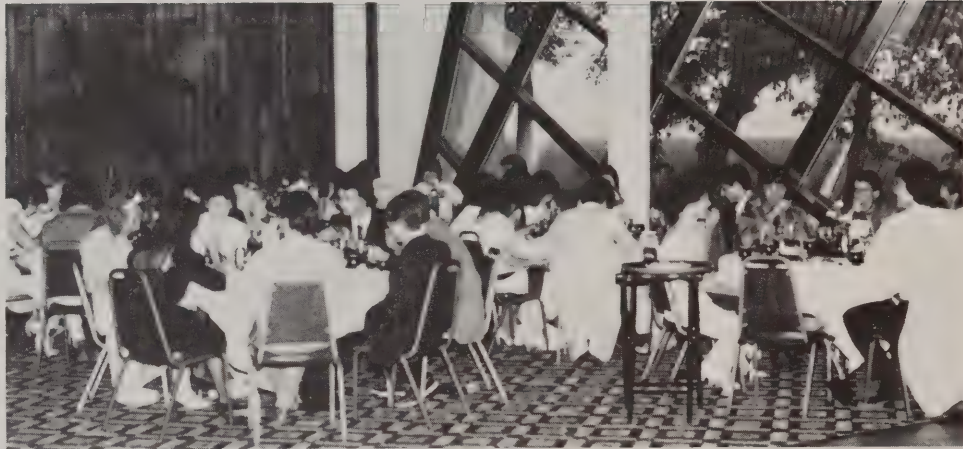

Everyone loves Mr. Bradshaw.

SENIOR BANQUET

Hampden County Club was the site of this year's Senior Banquet on Monday evening, June third. The banquet began with a social hour from 4:30 to 5:30 PM. At 5:30 everyone proceeded to line up for the buffet dinner, which included roast beef, assorted cold cuts, fruits, vegetables, breads, and pastas. An added feature to dinner was the picturesque setting of the sun over the golf course, which could be viewed from the hall windows.

After dinner the Senior Valedictory was distributed, containing the Senior wills and prophesies. Joanne Dudek and Joe Kenneally stirred up a few old memories in an address to the class. The four class advisors were presented gifts and a singing telegram from the Class, and Tom Sears and Kurt Staeb entertained with a duet written for the Seniors. Dancing began, the music furnished by The Twelfth of Never. Everyone said goodbye at 11:00, anxious for the Senior Assembly the next day.

SENIOR OLYMPICS

On Wednesday, May 31, after Class Day rehearsal, all of the seniors proceeded to the back of the school for the annual Senior Olympics. When everyone had reached the field, Steve Sander-son came running in as the official torchbearer of the games and the fun was on! Many students chose the egg toss, wheel barrow, obstacle course, apple passing, pie eating contest, Easter balloons, and tug of war to try their skills. For lunch the athletes had pizza, grinders, Soda, and ice cream sundaes. Sharon Covington presented the class with a diploma and a cake from our little brothers and sisters in the class of 1987. The whipped cream war instigated by Mrs. Libiszewski put a somewhat wild end to our high school days.

CLASS DAY '85

Class Day 1985 was held on Thursday, May 30, in the Ludlow High auditorium. All of the faculty and students were in attendance as the graduating class appeared for the first time in their graduation attire.

Class Day has been a tradition at L.H.S. for many years because it is on this day that individual students are presented scholarships, awards, and honors.

The program began with an invocation by Donna Robbins, followed by "The Last Words of David" delivered by the choir under the direction of Mr. Gregory Wrinn. Kathy Keough, president of the class, then introduced Mr. Cavallo for the presentation of Class Awards and Scholarships. Sheryl Maziarz, president of the Student Council, delivered the State of the School Address, recapping the accomplishments of the Student Council and her hopes for its future achievements. Christine Ouellette proceeded to give her Salutatorian Address, followed by the announcement totally new to the school: the recognition of the Top Twelve students with regard to participation in the activities of the class. These people were: Kevin Wikar, Gina Surreira, Donna Robbins, Cheri Steigmeyer, Sherrie McDonald, Sheryl Maziarz, Kathy Keough, Wendy Gottsman, Lauren Borsa, and Maria Andreis.

The presentation of the class albums and the 1985 yearbook was announced by Lauren Borsa and Mr. Charles Bradshaw respectively. Gina Surreira, class treasurer, gave the closing words, and everyone exited to the "War March Of The Preists."

Kathy Keough, President, and Shana Ferrigan, Valedictorian, lead in the class.

Mr. Cavallo makes a presentation to Carlos Vaz.

Lauren Borsa, Gina Surreira, Donna Robbins, Sheryl Maziarz, and Kathy Keough are five of the 12 most involved students.

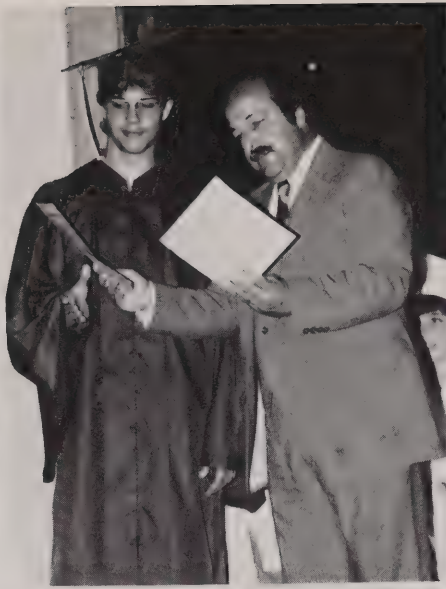

Mike Cijka accepts his award from Mr. Cavallo.

The Concert Choir sings "The Last Words Of David."

Sheryl Maziarz gives the State of the School Address.

Mark Bourcier accepts his yearbook awards.

Mark Holman is awarded honors for his athletic abilities and good sportsmanship.

Salutatorian Chris Ouellette and Mrs. Kelley.

Congratulations Gina!!

Maria Andreis is given the UNICO award.

Gina Surreira gives the closing words.

Donna Robbins delivers a thoughtful benediction.

SENIOR ASSEMBLY: "CASTLES OF THE HEART"

On Tuesday, June 4, Senior Assembly XVII was presented from the Class of 1986 to the graduating Class of 1985. The assembly was arranged and created with much labor and love by Mr. Charles Bradshaw with the help of Mrs. Toni Mancuso and Mrs. Elena Marion.

The production has been in the school for many years as a way of saying goodbye from the Juniors to the Seniors. The title of this year's assembly was "Castles of the Heart." At 10:30 the Seniors entered the auditorium to the song "Scarborough Fair," while all parents, faculty, guests, students and administration stood in honor of the Class. Sister Mary Peter, S.P., "1985 Woman of the Year" of the Springfield Chamber of Commerce, then delivered the invocation.

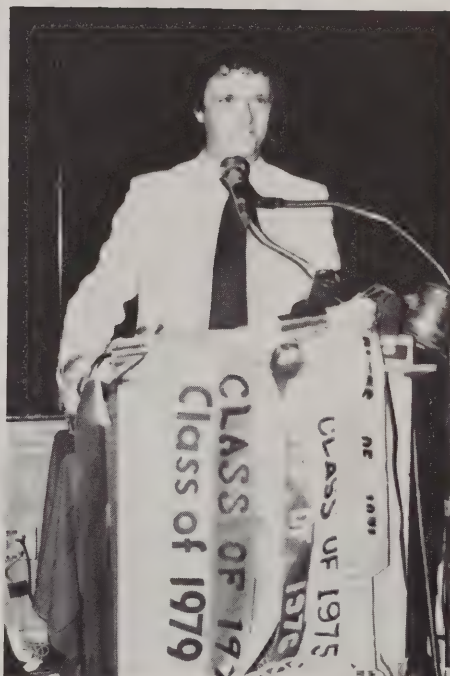

The Assembly was marked by intermittent sorrow and joy: sadness at those parts of the program that reminded one of his fleeting youth and joy at those that made fun of the way we were.

One of the nicest moments was when the Juniors surrounded the Seniors and sang "Auld Lang Syne" in a final farewell to them. The traditional passing of the peacepipe was also carried on as outgoing president Kathy Keough passed it to incoming president Michelle Manganaro. The recession began with a group of Juniors portraying the characters from the movie "Ghostbusters" leading the Seniors outside with their balloons. Once on the steps, the Seniors waited for the signal from Mr. Bradshaw to let go of their balloons, which symbolized their letting go of high school years.

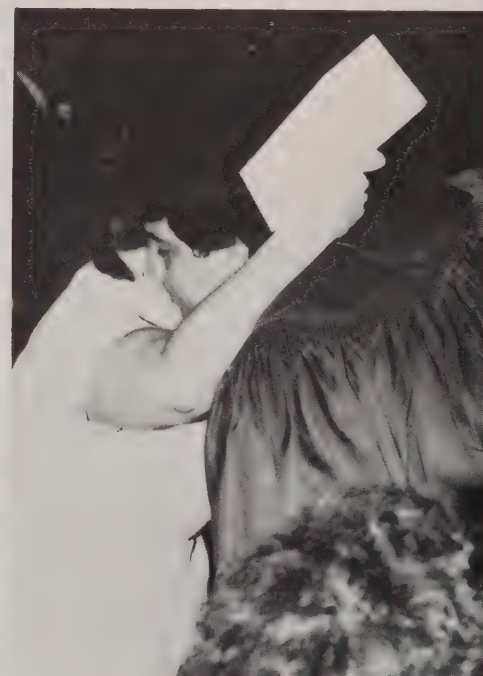

This assembly, as well as those in years past, was an example of the kind of care and spirit that can be found at Ludlow High School.

TO OUR SENIORS WE BID
FAREWELL
May all your castles be built upon dreams come true!
WITH ALL OUR Love

Mr. Bradshaw ends his farewell speech by assuring the Seniors that they will all do "just fine."

Dave Braz presents his letter to his parents.

Dan Sweeney as Tessa? ... with Mike Cijka?!

Kathy presents the peacepipe to Michelle.

Mrs. Libiszewski delivers her farewell speech.

Scott Rickson portrays Jeff Boron.

Mr. Bradshaw signals the Seniors to release the balloons.

Steve Sanderson sings "You've got a Friend."

Mr. Connery delivers his Faculty Chair acceptance.

Missy Staub and Chris Dupuis embrace.

COMMENCEMENT

Two hundred and fifty one seniors received their diplomas at Commencement Exercises for the Class of 1985 on June 5, 7:30 P.M. in Springfield Symphony Hall. As the Ludlow High School Wind Ensemble played the traditional "Pomp and Circumstance" the boys, led by Mr. Gay, and the girls, led by Mrs. Libiszewski, filed into the hall as all parents, family, teachers, administrators and guests stood in their honor. After an invocation by the Most Reverend Joseph P. Maguire, Bishop of Springfield, Shana Ferrigan the number one ranking student in the class, gave her valedictory address. Principal James D. Cavallo then presented several scholastic and athletic awards. Dr. James E. Tierney, Superintendent of Schools, made the presentation of the class which signaled Sarmiento Silva, Chairman of the School Committee, to begin distributing the diplomas. Kathy Keough, President of the Class then led the class in the moving of their tassels to the left of their mortar boards, symbolizing graduation, and then she proceeded to give her graduation message.

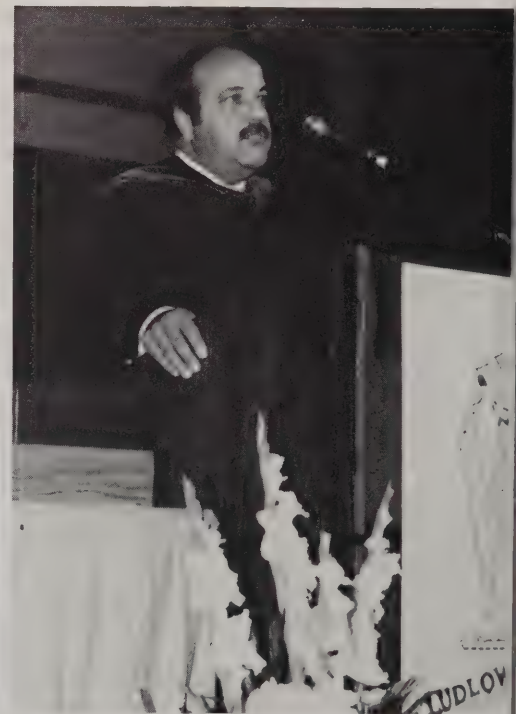

The traditional "Lord Bless You and Keep You" was sung by the Concert Choir, and the graduates began to leave the hall to the tune of "War March of the Priests."

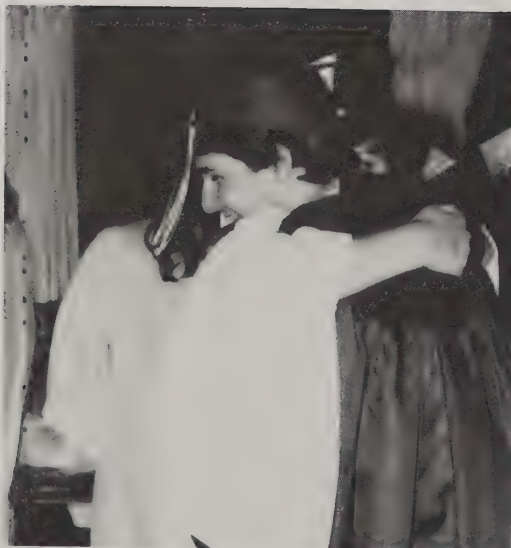

The girls are led by Mrs. Libiszewski.

Mr. Gay precedes the boys.

Principal James Cavallo presents the awards.

Jim Kumor gets a hug.

Julie Seslar is happy!

Kathy gives her farewell address.

Dan Zglobicki receives his diploma.

The big moment . . . Everyone turns his tassel.

Shana gives her valedictory address.

Tina Tollsman receives her diploma from Mr. Kolodziey.

Congratulations Jack.

Lisa Morrisette receives her diploma.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The Class of 1985 wishes to thank the following for their contributions to the 1985 Lion.

Mr. Charles A. Bradshaw, who has been the advisor of the Ludlow Lion for 17 years, has once again given generously of his time and talents to see to the creation of a tasteful and meaningful yearbook.

His dexterity with the administration and business end of yearbook production has proved to be very valuable. To him the Class of 1985 extends its gratitude.
